HUNS DEPRESSED BY RUIN WROUGHT IN NORTH FRANCE

Member of Delegation Speaks With Regret of Devastation.

DELEGATES ARE RECEIVED BY FRENCH OFFICIAL

Cold Weather and Rain Gives Envoys Chilly Reception.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Versailles, April 30.—When the German delegation to the peace conference headed by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, reached Versailles last night it was received in the name of the French government by M. Chaillet, prefect of the department of Seine-El-Oise, to whom the count expressed thanks on behalf of the delegation. The count's secretary (Her Rudiger) subsequently remarked to the newspaper men present:

"Words fail me to describe my feelings as I crossed your devastated regions. I hope the peace which we are about to sign will give satisfaction to all the nations which participated in the war."

The plenipotentiaries were greeted by cold, raw weather, with occasional rain squalls on the first day of their sojourn here.

Wearied from their long journey, the chief figures of the delegation slept late, not putting in an appearance during the forenoon. The lesser functionaries, however, heavily clothed against the storm, strolled through the sodden grounds of the park or along the street.

The May Day strike applies to the Versailles hotels, but it is understood it will not be allowed to deprive the German representatives of their meals and service as usual tomorrow.

U. S. LAUNCHES BIG BATTLESHIP

Tennessee Takes Water at New York—Is Most Powerful Battleship Afloat is Claim.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, April 30.—More than 75,000 persons crowded into the New York navy yard today to witness the launching of the most powerful battleship ever built in the history of the world, the United States superdreadnought Tennessee, a 32,000-ton monster which will cost $15,000,000 when completed. The ceremonies were set for 9:45 a. m. as at that time occurred the only tide in the course of a month capable of floating the craft. The sponsor, Miss Helen Roberts, a 16-year-old daughter of Governor A. H. Roberts of Tennessee, together with her father, accompanied the vessel on the occasion of breaking a bottle of champagne over the bow as the vessel slid down the ways. Miss Roberts was attended by 13 maids of honor. Governor Roberts and his staff and many distinguished citizens of Tennessee, together with high officials of the navy, occupied the reserved section at the vessel's bow.

The keel of the giant fighter, which is the fifth to be named Tennessee in American history, was laid May 14, 1917, and she is expected to be completed early in 1920. The sister ship of the U. S. California now under construction at the Mare Island navy yard. A peculiar feature of both the Tennessee and the California is that during the war the original plans were changed frequently in order that the lessons learned in actual warfare should be incorporated in them. Each ship is said to embody the latest ideas in battleship protection and efficiency.

The Tennessee is 624 feet over all in length and her extreme breadth to the outside of armor is 97 feet 3 1/4 inches. Her draft is 33 feet 6 inches. She will have a speed of 21 knots an hour and her eight water-tube boilers will develop 20,000 horse power. Her fuel oil capacity under normal conditions will be 12,000 tons. The armament will consist of 12 14-inch guns, 14 5-inch guns, four 6-pounders, four anti-aircraft guns and two torpedo tubes. The range of her guns is from 12 to 13 miles. The Tennessee will be manned by 55 officers and 1024 men. She will burn oil exclusively and will be equipped with electric drive.

HOTEL DINING ROOM TO BE PEACE CHAMBER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Versailles, Tuesday, April 29.—The first session of the peace conference will be held in the room now used by the supreme war council, and will be devoted to a verification of credentials. The text of the peace treaty will be presented to the delegates at the second session in the dining room of the Hotel Trianon. This is a superb apartment 25 feet square and having windows almost entirely around three sides, making it virtually a room in closed air.

The delegates will proceed to the conference chamber through a marble corridor 150 feet long lined with mirrors on one side and opening on the park from the other.

ISLANDS UNITE WITH GREECE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, April 29.—A joint declaration has been issued in the Dodecanese Islands by which it is declared that the islands have become united with Greece. The declaration was signed by the Greek representatives of the islands, basing her sovereignty upon rights secured following the Tarco-Italian war in 1912.

OHIO VILLAGE SWEEP BY COSTLY BLAZE

Dayton, April 30.—A property loss estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000 was sustained when fire swept the village of Bellbrook, 12 miles southeast of this city, in Greene county, at an early hour today. The blaze broke out in the Swartz grocery and meat buildings, which were destroyed, including two groceries, a dwelling, the telephone exchange, a garage and furniture store and other properties. Help was summoned from Dayton, Xenia and Wilmington and firemen and a hose equipment from Dayton was sent to the scene of the fire. Bellbrook is cut off from other communities and at this hour the fire is still burning. Councilman Michael Mullen of Cincinnati, has a summer home on the outskirts of the village.

PARIS NEWSPAPERS TO SUSPEND ONE DAY

Paris, Tuesday, April 29.—The directors of newspapers in this city met today and decided that no papers would be published on Thursday. There will be no work done in newspaper printing plants from 7 o'clock, Wednesday, until 7 o'clock Thursday evening. The typographers union held a referendum on the subject which showed a large majority in favor of shutting down the plants on May day. The national office which regulates the paper supply has expressed the hope that the provincial press will follow the example of Paris.

NO SPECULATION IN FLOUR PRICES

Minneapolis Flour Dealers Declare They Know Nothing of Action as Charged.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Minneapolis, Minn., April 30.—Grain and flour dealers generally agreed today that the decision of the United States grain corporation to cease buying flour for export (except first clears and Victory mixed flours), and to resell stocks on hand at New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other centers, would greatly decrease the demand for wheat flour, thereby cutting down the output of the mills, temporarily at least. It is here being speculated in flour, and Julius H. Barnes, president of the grain corporation stated yesterday, Minneapolis grain men said they have known nothing about it.

The high price of flour they contend is due to a real shortage of wheat. That a wheat shortage exists because the wheat is being held by speculators, as the belief of H. P. Gallagher, vice president and manager of the Consolidated Milling company, Minneapolis. "I think the farmers are the real speculators in this case," he said. "At any rate, the demand for flour has been extremely heavy and we have been buying almost any price for wheat. If there has been any speculating in flour I have not known about it. Just what effect Mr. Barnes' action will have further than stopping the buying of flour, I cannot predict."

FINDS GIRL AFTER SEARCH OF TWO WEEKS

Probation Officer John Dwyer received a request some time ago from a woman in Dayton to look up her daughter, Ruth Koogher, 16, who had left that city April 14, to visit an aunt at Hebron, but who had left there and had not been heard of since. Dwyer immediately got busy, visited Hebron and called on the girl's aunt and learned that she had left on the day after arrival from Dayton, going to Newark and that she had not been heard of since. The officer obtained a description of the girl, and after nearly two weeks' search he located her at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kirk in Twenty-first street, where she was staying with her father. The girl was sent to her aunt at Hebron to get her clothes and remain there until arrangements could be made to send her home to Dayton.

CHEVROLET CARS ARE TAKEN BY THIEVES

Two Chevrolet touring cars were stolen in this city last night and an abandoned car of the same make was found by Police Chief James Sheridan and Captain Charles Hagan. The abandoned car was picked up in Baker street where it had been abandoned by two young men about dusk. The car carried a Missouri state license tag and there was an Ohio license tag under the front seat.

Floyd W. Gibson of Johnston, N. H., was arrested while attending the wrestling match. When he went to get his car, he was mistaken for a model 1918 touring car and carried license number 216,912.

The other car stolen was owned by L. A. Christman of Haver, carrying license number 211,025. The machine was parked in East Main street.

TANKS TO REACH UTICA LATE THIS AFTERNOON

The tanks are making slow progress over the 12 1/2 mile route. They left New York this morning through Madison and Homer in Utah. It took them nearly two hours to make the trip from New York to Madison, and the soldiers driving the tanks are having some trouble with the tanks. The tanks are expected to arrive in Utica between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon, but whether they will ever reach Newark tonight is not known. Captain Cole and a lieutenant are also in the party.

ORLANDO IS GIVEN CONFIDENCE VOTE BY PARLIAMENT

Powers Reach Agreement On Formula To Prevent Break

LAYS DETAILS OF DEMANDS BEFORE ITALIAN DEPUTIES

Germans Will Get First Hint of Terms Probably On Friday.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rome, Tuesday, April 29.—Premier Vittorio Orlando's work at the peace conference in Paris received vindication in the chamber of deputies here tonight when a vote of confidence was given him, 382 to 40. The ballots opposing the resolution were cast by the intransigent socialists.

The premier laid before parliament the details of his demands for Fiume and the Dalmatian coast districts to which Italy has laid claim. He began by saying that the international situation was grave at present, adding that it was "very grave" for Italy. He said that it was the duty of Italy to preserve an attitude of "calm and serenity" at the present moment.

An outline of the exchange between himself and President Wilson was given by Signor Orlando, who made it clear that the president's action in making public his statement as to Italy's claim to Fiume had made it impossible either to accept or reject any proposals that might be made. He said that he believed it his duty to come at once before the parliament to receive authority in carrying forward his work at the conference. Up until April 14, when he received from President Wilson the American viewpoint on Fiume, he said, he thought an agreement was probable. In the course of his address the premier spoke of the attitude taken at Paris by the British and French governments, which, he said, had been loyal to promises made in the treaty of London, which was signed in 1915. He admitted, however, that both France and Great Britain do not stand with Italy in her demands for the annexation of Fiume. He added that they might have agreed, in principle, to the creation of Fiume as an independent free state.

A great demonstration followed the premier's address before the senate.

17 BOMBS FOUND ADDRESSED TO PROMINENT MEN

Bombs Are Similar to That Sent To Former Senator Hardwick Which Injured Maid.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, April 30.—Postoffice inspectors at New York City reported today the discovery there of 17 infernal machines put into the mail addressed to prominent officials, including cabinet officers.

One of the machines is understood to have exploded during examination, but without causing great damage. All were similar to the bomb sent to former Senator Hardwick of Georgia, which when opened at the Hardwick home blew off the hands of a negro maid and injured Mrs. Hardwick.

TAX RETURNS MUST BE MADE WEDNESDAY

Today is the last day to make your personal returns or declaration to County Fred S. Wilson, (you wish to have a refund of the $100 exemption). Those who fail to make declaration before night will not only lose the exemption but may be subjected to a penalty of 50 per cent.

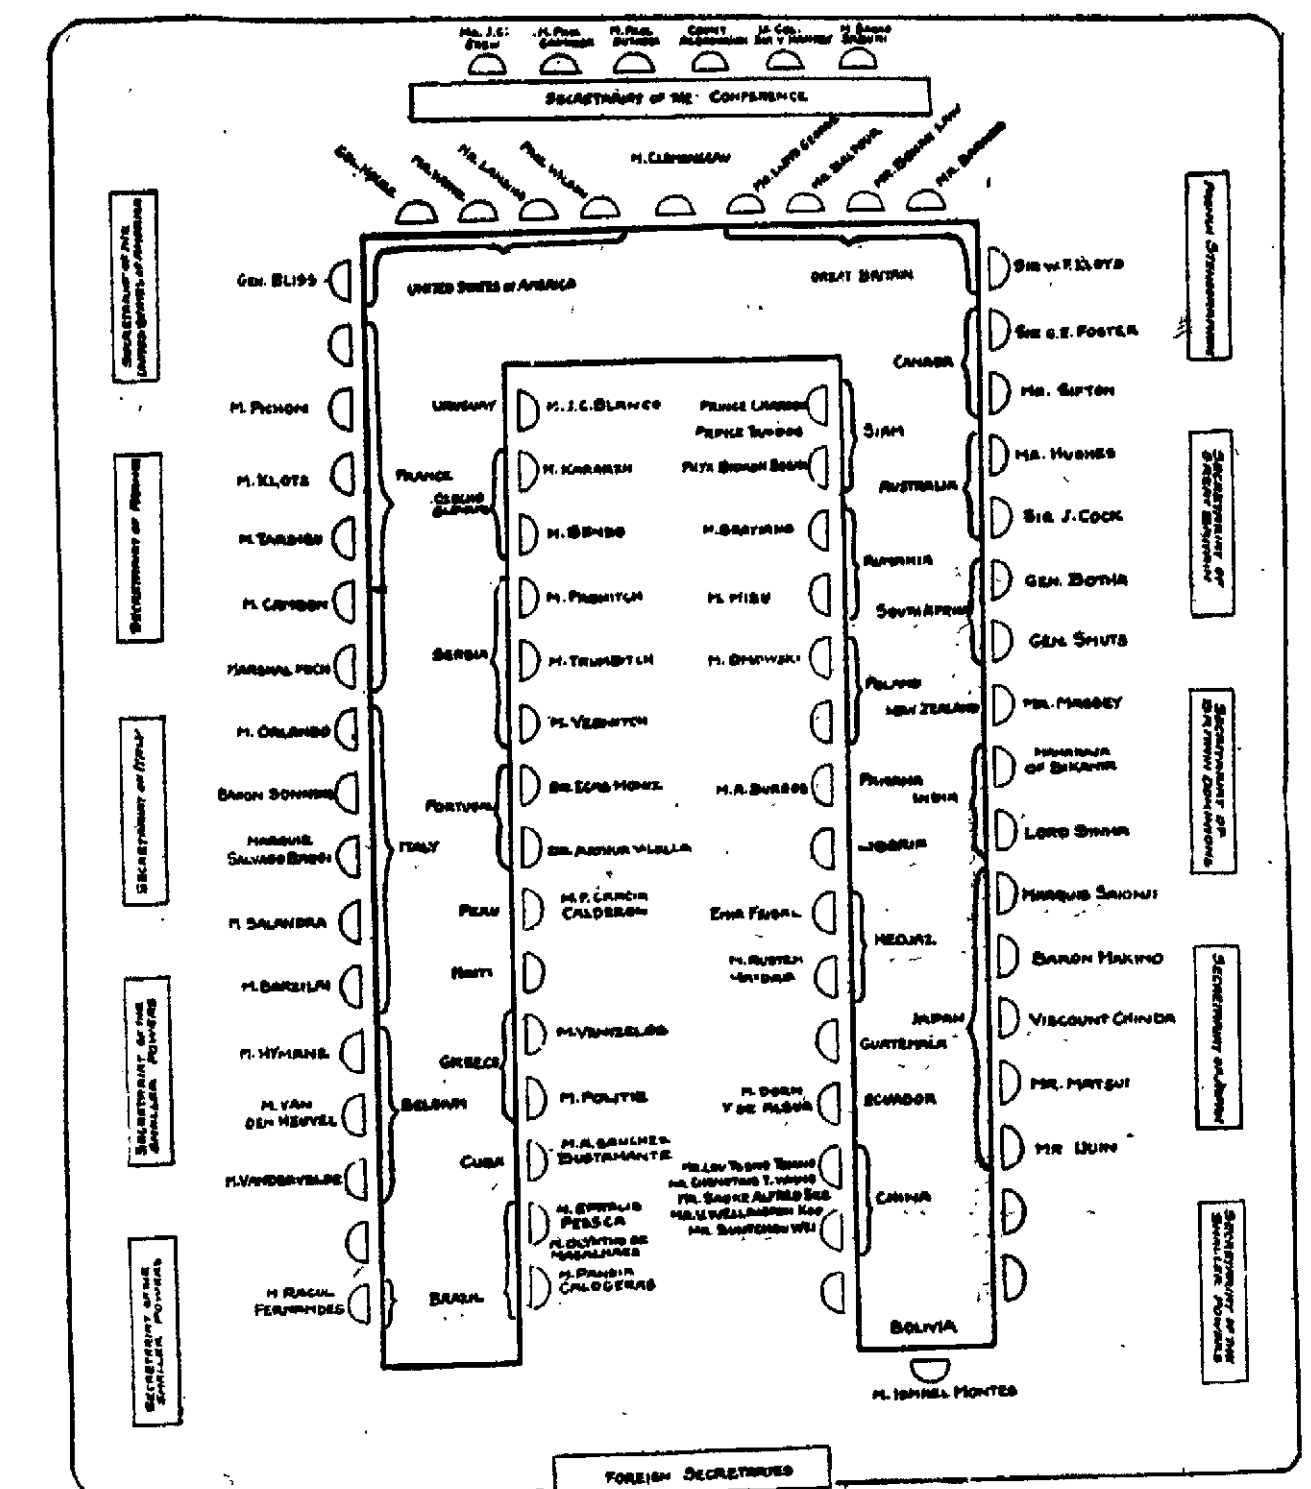

Auditor Wilson stated today that there were many who have not yet made their return. The assessors will start to work next Monday on the returns filed not only with him but also in the auditor's office. The assessors who are elected for two years will check up from last year's returns.

Auditor Wilson and his force of a half dozen deputies and clerks were kept busy throughout the day and at times there was not room enough in his office and a number of callers were compelled to remain in the corridors of the court house.

INSPECTOR PROBES LOCAL POSTAL SERVICE

C. D. Beatty, chief postoffice inspector from Columbus arrived in Newark yesterday. The Chamber of Commerce and business men of the city have been co-operating with the local postoffice department in an effort to secure more help for the local department and to increase the efficiency. The postoffice department at Washington has been asked to take the matter up and for some weeks has promised a visit of the inspector to look over the local situation. Mr. Beatty arrived yesterday and it is not known how long he will remain in the city.

HOW WORLD LEADERS ARE GROUPED AT PEACE CONFERENCE TABLE

The diagram above, issued by the American peace commission, shows the places of each nation and their representatives at the great peace conference in the Quai d'Orsay, Paris, and where the aides are stationed.

NEWARK'S CLEAN UP DAY.

Next Monday will be "clean up" day in Newark. Mayor Atherton by proclamation has requested every citizen to participate in the event by cleaning premises, including cellars, attics, yards and alleys. It is hoped that special attention will be given to property abutting on the B. & O. and Pennsylvania tracks. Trash may be placed close to the curbstone and if free from garbage will be carted away by the city teams.

SOFT DRINKS, SILK HOSE AND $3 SHIRTS ARE TAXED AFTER MAY 1

Soda Fountains and Ice Cream Parlors Making Plans to Put Into Effect Government's Revenue Plan—Pink Silk Pajamas Also On List.

Members of the coco cola club and those fond of ice cream, dopes and sundae should have their pennies ready for beginning tomorrow the war revenue tax on luxuries goes into effect. All dealers who compound their own drinks at soda fountains will be compelled to pay a 10 per cent tax on soft drinks served from the fountain, and also pay a tax on ice cream sold over the counter.

Local dealers will each operate their places according to their own ideas of what will help the trade. At one fruit and soft drink store on the square the only tax collected from the customer will be for coco cola from the fountain and from ice cream. He has not decided whether to abandon the five cent dish and serve a nine cent dish, charging ten cents for it and pay the tax in that manner or whether he will sell a small dish for six cents.

Another well known stand on the square will charge 11 cents for all drinks served from his fountain and 11 cents for ice cream. Seventeen cents will also be charged for all 15 cent.

BOLSHEVIKI FORCE SUFFERS DEFEAT

British and American Soldiers Repulse Strong Attack and Capture Prisoners.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Archangel, Monday, April 28.—American and British troops at Kursanov on the night 1-2 of the Diva repulsed a strong Bolshevik attack Sunday night, taking 13 prisoners.

Paris, Tuesday, April 29.—(French Wireless Service) Polish troops, having driven Bolsheviks from Vinnia, are marching on Pinsk, according to information from the Times by M. Waskowski, former police commissioner, in connection with the Polish operations in Lithuania. The former minister said that the Polish did not have announced that military activity in Lithuania is only to protect the inhabitants against invasion.

The liberation of White Russia and Lithuania, M. Waskowski added, would make an end to Bolshevik plans to invade Poland through those territories.

HUNS PLANNED CRUSHING PEACE

Would Have Stolen Belgium and Great Part of French Coast Along English Channel.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Tuesday, April 29.—The terms that Matthias Erzberger was in favor of imposing upon the allies if Germany had been victorious as set forth in a memorandum written by him in 1914, are outlined by a Geneva dispatch to the Journal having been received at Geneva from the private secretary of the late Kurt Eisner, the former Bavarian premier.

"Germany, in the first place, cannot tolerate the presence on her frontiers of weak neutral states insufficiently strong to preserve their neutrality, or which do not want to remain neutral," said Erzberger.

"Her second aim must be to free herself from the insupportable leading strings of England on the questions of world policy, and in the third place she must take up the Russian colossus."

"Consequently, Germany must have sovereignty, not only over Belgium, but the French coast from Dunkirk to Boulogne, and possession of the channel islands. She must also take the mines in French-Lorraine and create an African-German empire by annexing the Belgian and French Congo. British Nigeria, Dahomey and the French west coast."

"In fixing indemnities, the actual capacity of a state at the moment should not be considered. Besides a large immediate payment, annual installments spread over a long period could be arranged. France would be helped in making them by decreasing her budget of naval and military appropriations. The reductions to be imposed in the peace treaty being such as would enable her to send substantial sums to Germany. Indemnities should provide for the repayment of the full cost of the war and the damages of war, notably in East Prussia, the redemption of all of Germany's public debt and the creation of a vast fund for incapacitated soldiers."

The memorandum was received by Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the then imperial chancellor, with reserve, and General Falkenhayn, in acknowledging its receipt, wrote that "the White bear and the whale will give us many hard nuts to crack yet," a view which was shared by General von Moltke and Admiral von Tirpitz.

POLICE WILL STOP BOLSHEVIKI MEET

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) St. Paul, Minn., April 29.—Chief of Police Abbott said last night that he would devote all the police necessary to stop a scheduled Bolshevik meeting here Thursday night if any "rough stuff" was attempted. The meeting, according to circulars distributed for the purpose of protesting against the imprisonment of Eugene V. Debs, the chief further stated that he would arrest the first man he caught carrying a red flag in this city.

AVIATORS IN CONTEST.

Atlantic City, N. J., April 30.—Between 25 and 30 aviators have entered the aerial contests for purses amounting $50,000 in cash which will begin here on Saturday and continue almost daily until the last of May. The contests are to be held in conjunction with the second annual convention of the Pan-American Aeronautical Association, which will open on Thursday.

WILL OFFER NEW PLAN TO SETTLE CHINESE PROBLEM

WILL GO AHEAD WITH TREATY WITHOUT REGARD TO ITALY

Declares Wilson's Public Statement Makes Agreement Impossible.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, April 30.—The Council of Three met today at 3:30 p. m., earlier than usual. While no program was announced it was believed the Italian situation as developed by the parliamentary endorsement of the Italian declaration written today was to be considered and the discussion over Kiao Chau resumed.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, April 30.—The Council for the solution of the problem of Kiao Chau, which it is hoped will remove any possibility of a definite break and prove mutually acceptable to the Chinese and Japanese, has been reached by the powers, it was stated in authoritative quarters today. The nature of the indicated solution, however, has as yet not been disclosed.

It is planned a peace conference circles to go ahead with the treaty of peace without regard to any action by Italy as it is considered probable the Italian delegation will not return, certainly not within the present week. The delivery of the treaty and the first exchanges with the German therefore will occur without the participation of Italy and it is said in American quarters that this procedure will go forward steadily up till the signing of the treaty. The first reading with the Germans will probably occur Friday afternoon or Saturday when the pact will be presented.

A day or two will be given for questions concerning interpretations of different phases of the convention. It is, however, not expected that the German view is that the Germans may ask for two weeks delay to permit them to return to Weimar with an additional week for discussing points presented after their return from the temporary German capital. This is a matter of conjecture however, as there is no precise information as to German intentions.

SAN SALVADOR SHAKEN BY QUAKE

Cable Company's Agents Report Heavy Damage Two Days Ago—New Tremors Recorded.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, April 30.—Cable reports received by the South American Cable company indicate that an earthquake occurred in San Salvador two days ago may prove as disastrous as the great quake of 1917. It was said at the offices of the company today. No details have been received, but the company's damage was extensive. The disaster apparently ravaging that of 1917.

At least 40 persons were killed and millions of dollars of property destroyed in June, 1917, when an earthquake accompanied by a violent eruption of the volcano of San Salvador ripped out many towns in the republic. Many buildings were destroyed in the city of San Salvador and enormous damage was done on coffee plantations which were buried beneath lava and ashes from the volcano.

2300 TROOPS ARE LANDED IN NEW YORK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) New York, April 30.—Thirty-six officers and 1,379 men of the 77th (Liberty) division, largely New York drafted men, arrived here today from Brest on the steamship Louisville, which brought altogether 2,338 troops. 86 members of soldiers and sailors families, and 55 sailors and civilians.

Fourteen officers and 647 men comprising all except Company H of the Second Battalion of the 162nd Infantry (41st division, former National Guard of Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming) returned on the Louisville, together with 27 wounded or sick officers, men and nurses.

On the steamship from Genoa, Italy, came 1,519 troops, including high officials of the navy, including former National Guard of Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas, for Camps Beauregard, Pike, Sherman, Union and Gordon.

Other troops were casuals, including scattered casualties of the marine, regular army and colored troops.

ARMY OFFICER HANGED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, April 30.—A Havas dispatch from Di on states that American army authorities at Is-sur-Tille, a village near that city, have sentenced and hanged an American lieutenant for an assault upon a little girl who died in consequence of the injuries she received.

ARTILLERY BOYS DISINTER INSIGNIA

Had Buried Arrows With Funeral-Like Ceremony
When Told They Were
Detached From Division.

The boys of the 324th heavy field artillery, when they were notified several weeks ago that they were not coming home with the 2nd division, held a mock funeral, buried the division, only to have to dig it up again, when they were informed later that they were to return home with that organization.

On April 8, they were officially informed that they had been detached from the 32nd division, with which they had been serving in the army of occupation, and that they would not return with it. According to the story, they received the next day the boys a lot of sorts and disappointed looks. The 32nd insignia—the red arrow—on their sleeves, placed all of them in a casket, held a funeral procession, headed by the regimental band, and marched out. They had a burial. It was so effectively done that some of the boys go so far as to declare that the German army is seeing the funeral procession well.

With the service over, they returned back to the streets of the "front" city.

The next day a change was made in plans and the men were notified to get ready at once as they were to leave with the 32nd. Then they hurried out to dig up the insignia and many spent a few busy hours sewing back the insignia on the division.

RHEIMS "MARTYR CITY" OF FRENCH REPUBLIC

Rheims, France, March 21.—(By Mail)—Rheims, which had a population of 115,175 before the war, now has only 45,558 inhabitants. 3,857 men, 3,355 women and 1,213 children.

The "martyr city" was shelled by the Germans on 1,051 days, and over 1,000 persons were killed, including some 300 women and 100 children. The cathedral was struck by 257 shells up to March 21, 1918. After that date, no record was kept.

April 24, 1917 was the worst day of the war for Rheims. The bombardment was so terrific that no record could be made of the casualties and damage on that day.

HOW SOME OCEAN FLIERS MAY END TRIPS

British aviator climbing from wrecked plane to H. M. destroyer Umpire.

The danger accompanying a trans-Atlantic flight will be reduced to a minimum by all governments by means of a string of naval vessels at intervals of 100 or 200 miles along the route chosen. As the airplanes used will be equipped with wireless apparatus the pilots can summon aid should need arise. The photo shows how one British aviator came to grief while flying along the coast. His plane dropped in the water but the H. M. destroyer Umpire, nearby, came to his rescue.

WORLD WAR VETERANS IN MEMORIAL PARADE

The general memorial committee will hold its 15th meeting, Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock. This year Memorial Day will fall on Friday, May 30. Preparations for its proper observance are well under way.

All uniformed and armed bodies, and all patriotic societies of Newark and vicinity, have been invited by the general memorial committee to participate in the morning parade. Returned soldiers of the present war will march in that parade. Plans for their proper formation are being formed and will be announced later.

F. G. Steele is secretary of the general memorial committee.

Power of Imagination.

To those who see only with their eyes, the distant is always indistinct and little, becoming less and less as it recedes, till utterly lost; but to the imagination, which thus reverses the perspective of the senses, the far off is great and imposing, the magnitude increasing with the distance.—Mrs. Jameson (Studies).

Quite Simple Remedy.

Men who are compelled to work at night frequently are heard to complain that they are unable to sleep in the daytime. We have suffered from that affliction while working on a morning newspaper. We know of but one sure cure. That is to get a job working days. The desire to sleep in the daytime then becomes as natural as breathing.—Kansas City Star.

Knew She Would Be Asked.

Tillie was leaving to go over to her little chum's house, when she suddenly turned in the door and called to her mother, "Mamma, has baby brother got any teeth yet?" When asked why she wished to know, she replied, "So I can tell Mabel's mother. She always asks me if he has any teeth yet when I goes over to play with Mabel."

CENTRAL OHIO WILL WELCOME 166TH INF.

Columbus, April 29.—Central Ohio will come to Columbus to witness the latter part of this or the first of next week to greet the boys of the returning 166th infantry, Ohio's veteran regiment in the famous Rainbow division when it parades here before going to Camp Sherman for discharge.

Commanded by Colonel Benson W. Hough of Delaware, the Ohio Rainbows arrived at New York from France last week on the big liner, the Leviathan, and is now at Camp Merritt, N. J. Official advices say that it may parade in Columbus Saturday of this week.

The regiment, formerly the old Fourth regiment, Ohio National Guard, is composed almost exclusively of Central Ohio men, although before becoming attached to the Rainbow division, men from nearly every county in the state were added to its personnel.

When recruited to a war strength, the men of the unit came principally from Marion, Delaware, Stark, Columbus, Lancaster, Coshocton, Chillicothe, Washington, C. and London and Marysville.

Practically all of these cities have arranged to declare a holiday on the day the regiment parades in Columbus so that their citizens can greet their home town boys.

Elaborate plans are being made by Columbus city and state officials for the reception of the crack Ohio troops, who saw hard fighting and suffered more casualties than any other Ohio unit in France. The men will parade and will then be lavishly entertained. The streets of Ohio's capital city are being elaborately decorated for the event.

The 166th will return to Ohio with only about one-third of the Ohio men it took over to France. Approximately two thirds of the regiment is composed of replacements shipped to the front, casualties suffered. Scores of the returning fighters are wearing medals of honor and many of them have been cited for bravery.

When the Boy Grows Up

You will want to give him the best possible equipment for his life's work. After his high school days are over will come the university—if you make provision now. Plan to give him every advantage.

Educate Him With War Savings Stamps

You cannot lose his start in life if you put the money into these absolutely safe government securities. Unlike any other investment known, they are guaranteed to increase in value every month, may be registered against loss, cannot be taxed, and are convertible into cash in ten days.

$830 invested now will be $1,000 January 1, 1924—when the boy needs it.

You can buy the limit in his name, in your own, and in the names of other members of your family.

If you bought the limit last year, you may buy $1,000 this year.

Great.

NEWSPAPER MEN COMING

Wireless telephone and telegraphic service is to be established on the special train of the 150 prominent manufacturers, bankers, jobbers and wholesalers of the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh coming here the week of May 20, to visit the business men of this place in their own places of business.

The Pittsburghers will travel in a special Pullman train and one of the most luxurious ever assembled on wheels, to boost business generally, and foreign trade in particular. The pilgrims on this tour intend to notify the rest of the world as to what is going on here and what the business outlook is. All of the leading Pittsburgh newspapers will be represented and communication will be had with the train all the time. It is expected to operate wireless telephone and telegraphic communication while the train is in motion.

Those interested in the arrangements for this feature of the trade extension committee of which they are members are T. L. Rose, of the Dodge Sales and Engineering Co., who is one of the "live wire" members of the big trade body, and Thomas F. Walter, of the A. J. Logan Co., who is also one of the most active members of that organization.

The itinerary includes the following stops: New Castle and Sharon, Pa. Youngstown and Warren, O. May 20; Akron, Alliance, Canton, Massillon, May 21; Mansfield, Mt. Vernon, Newark, Zanesville, May 22; Coshocton, Uhrichsville, Pennsboro, Steubenville, Wellsville, East Liverpool, O. The train is leaving Pittsburgh via the Pennsylvania Lines West.

Their affairs so that another postponement will not be necessary.

The chairman of the different committees is A. S. Hoff, W. M. Morgan, J. C. Gravel, J. J. Turner, T. J. Angell, B. T. Young, and Clark W. Chamberlain, president of Denison University.

They all have been asked to be prepared of the one power, but they have not been able to attend to the time set. The mayor has asked the committee members to arrange

COLE TO TELL MOTORISTS' CONVENTION HOW GOOD ROADS AND TRUCKS SAVED VERDUN

Ohio Trucks at Verdun. Lt. Col. Cole.

One of the principal speakers before the convention of the Ohio State automobile association at Columbus, May 7, will be Lieutenant Colonel Ralph D. Cole. The theme of his address will be how good roads and automobiles saved Verdun. Cole is historian of the 37th division and was a good roads enthusiast before he went to France. His experiences "over there" promise some new thrills for the motorists' convention. Other speakers include Gov. James M. Cox, Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith and Mayor George Karb of Columbus.

Four hundred delegates representing 48 automobile clubs will participate in the convention, discussing recent legislation and further improvement of the highways of Ohio. There will be business sessions Wednesday morning and afternoon, and an annual banquet Wednesday evening, at which the governor, Cole and others will deliver their messages. The convention closes Thursday, May 8.

The officers of the Ohio State automobile association are: President, Walter D. Meigs, Cleveland; 1st vice president, Frank R. Bentley, Warren; 2nd vice president, Dr. W. H. Butcher, Youngstown; 3rd vice president, W. S. Thurston, Toledo; 4th vice president, E. F. Wickwire, Mansfield; treasurer, Wal-

LEAGUE TO MEET IN WHITE HOUSE

Tentative Plans Would Call
Delegates to Washington
Next October, Paris Dispatch Says.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Paris, April 29.—It has been tentatively decided that the first meeting of the League of Nations shall be held in Washington next October.

Plans are being formulated for the holding of this meeting, the initial gathering to be in the east room of the White House under the presidency of President Wilson.

At yesterday's plenary session of the peace conference President Wilson moved for the appointment of a committee of nine members to arrange for the inauguration of the league and this committee will begin its work tomorrow. Its task will include the formulation of permanent plans for the work of the league at Geneva and for an inaugural meeting in Washington.

308TH TRENCH BATTERY ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

New York, April 30.—Bringing 103 officers and two civilians, the steamship Atenas arrived yesterday from St. Nazaire. Five of the officers were accompanied by their families.

The contingent chiefly represented detachments from the 316th field hospital and 308th trench mortar battery of Ohio. Lieutenant Joseph H. Hughes of New York, one of the officers of the 308th trench mortar battery, said that the battery had been collectively decorated with the Croix de Guerre at Nantes on St. Patrick's day. Seven of the men of the battery also had received the D. S. C. Another officer of the battery on board was Lieutenant Francis Reising of Lancaster.

The 308th trench mortar battery was trained at Camp Sherman as a part of the 83rd division. The personnel of the battery came from Columbus and central Ohio.

308TH TRAIN WON'T PARADE.
Cleveland, April 30.—Cleveland will not be given an opportunity to see the 308th ammunition train parade here as a unit, according to word brought back from New York today by Mayor Davis. The soldiers will leave Camp Upton, Illinois, Friday morning and go direct to Camp Sherman to be demobilized. The Cleveland members of the ammunition train probably will return in a body next week, according to present plans there will be no public reception.

SPRING FEVER
Following Colds, Grippe, Thins,
Watery or Poisoned Blood

(BY DR. VALENTINE MOTT.)

At this time of year most people suffer from what we term "spring fever" because of a stagnant condition of the blood, because of the toxic poisons stored up within the body during the long winter. We eat too much meat, with little or no green vegetables.

Bloodless people, thin, anemic people, those with pale cheeks and lips, who have a poor appetite and feel that tired, worn or feverish condition in the spring-time of the year, should try the refreshing tonic powers of a good alternative and blood purifier. Such a tonic as druggists have sold for fifty years, is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a standard remedy that can be obtained in tablet or liquid form. Made without alcohol from wild roots and barks.

Occasionally one should "clean house" with castor oil or tiny pills made up of the May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, and sold by almost all druggists in this country as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

WOOSTER, OHIO.—"I am very well pleased with the use of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took it for throat and lung trouble. This was when we lived near Canton, Ohio."

"We are never without Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. We keep them in the house and use them for biliousness as they are needed. As our experience with Dr. Pierce's remedies covers a period of over seventeen years, this ought to have weight as a recommendation."—Mrs. J. H. CHRISTINE, 407 So. Grant St.

BOLSHEVIKI HEAD CAN'T COMMUNICATE WITH LENINE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
New York, April 30.—The state department has not permitted direct communication between Santteri Nuorteva, head of the Russian Bolshevik propaganda bureau in the United States and Nikolai Lenine, the head of the Bolshevik regime in Russia, according to a letter received from William Phillips, acting secretary of state by Montague Donner, president of the Finland constitutional league of America. The letter made public yesterday was in response to an inquiry by Mr. Donner whether a reported claim of Mr. Nuorteva to that effect was true.

WAR DEPT. PRINTS LIST OF OFFICERS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, April 30.—The "official army register" for 1918—the first issue of this periodical, which gives the name, rank and precedence of every officer in the regular establishment to appear since December, 1915—has just come from the printer. Publication of the issue of 1915 and 1917 were held up by the war department both because of the value of its contents to the enemy and because of the impossibility of gathering accurate data while the composition of the army was undergoing so great and rapid changes.

The new issue under the "permanent establishment head" gives the names of Peyton C. March and John J. Pershing as holding the rank of general, and lists Hunter Liggett and Robert L. Bullard as the only two lieutenant generals.

Leonard Wood heads the list of the permanent major generals which now includes 89 names. There are 202 brigadiers, 1479 colonels, and 1405 lieutenant colonels. In all, there are 11,491 officers listed as in the regular army. The volume includes also the names of all living retired officers, histories of the regular regiments, and the "casualties" for the previous year.

ONE R. R. EMPLOYEE -IN CLASS BY SELF

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, April 29.—One railroad employee in the United States is in a class all by himself. This was developed by a railroad administration statistical report, showing employees divided into 68 classes and giving the working time and wages of each class. Most classes contained tens or hundreds of thousands of workmen.

"Class 65, express service employees," consisted of one man, hired by a southern road to carry special packages.

"Class 66, express service employees," has a whole column of a statistical report devoted to this man who enjoys the further distinction of having had his wages cut 16 per cent in the year.

CZECHS TAKE OVER BIG ESTATES FOR GOVERNMENT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Washington, April 30.—The expropriation of large estates in Czechoslovakia has been announced by the national assembly, according to an official dispatch to Commissioner Pergler of the Czechoslovak republic, made public yesterday. Under this law the state will take over 3,250,000 acres of cultivated land and 7,500,000 acres of wooded land, which, it is estimated, will provide a livelihood for 430,000 families. By the new law all estates of more than 375 acres of land under cultivation or possible of cultivation, and 250 acres of wooded land will be expropriated. In the case of the estates of the imperial family, estates illegally acquired, and estates of persons who during the war were guilty of treason against the Czechoslovak nation no compensation will be paid for the land expropriated. In accordance with the recommendations of the constitutional committee of the national convention made public here the president has been given authority to name and dismiss cabinet ministers, negotiate and ratify international agreements and treaties, preside at meetings of the council of ministers, and to submit his desires and recommendations to the national assembly in matters of state.

FUEL TANK CAMOUFLAGED AS BOOZE RESERVOIR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Toledo, April 30.—A charge of speeding was lodged against Charles Todd, 28, Toledo, when arrested at Monroe, Tuesday, by Sheriff Joe Fairley. Fifteen minutes later a charge was changed to bootlegging, and this is why: A big tank was found under the front seat in the car. It smelled like gasoline on top, all right, but when Fairley crawled underneath it smelled like whiskey.

Investigation showed the tank was a double-affair, and that the lower part contained 20 gallons of whiskey. A spigot under the lower tank was connected with a foot-lever on the dashboard, so that the whiskey could be spilled along the road if the chase grew hot.

Fairley thinks Todd didn't give him due credit for sleuthing powers, and that the prisoner thought he could get away with his camouflage, and hence didn't step on the lever.

Wait for the New Hudson Super-Six Here Soon—Price $1975

Prompt Deliveries Assured Early Buyers—It is a Perfected Development of the Car You Know So Well

A new Hudson Super-Six is coming. It reveals how four years' experience with 60,000 cars has enabled Hudson engineers to free it from many of the annoyances regarded as inevitable to all cars. It embodies the qualities which men said would make it the greatest car known.

It Is Worth Waiting For

Production on large scale is now under way.

Dealers will have their demonstrating cars within a few days.

You must not fail to see the new Hudson Super-Six.

Think of the history of earlier models. They have made a place in every branch of motor car use that has not been matched.

The first Hudson Super-Six, four years ago, increased motor power by 72% without added weight. It retained all the simplicity of the six. It minimized vibration.

Proved In A Thousand Ways

You remember how endurance was proved. Nothing to equal Hudson Super-Six records of performance had ever been known. Most of those stand today as achievements that no other car has been able to match.

But one thing those feats did, you perhaps do not know. They showed ways for development of subsequent models that find their expression in the new car soon to be offered.

PROPERTY RIGHTS.

When the New York legislature adjourned, Gov. Smith of that state remarked that "The Republican majority in the assembly gave itself solely to the care of property and property rights. By their refusal to even debate humanitarian measures, tending to safeguard the lives, the health, and the welfare of men, women and children, they enunciated the policy that our great human resources must take care of themselves."

Protests coming from very conservative sources sustain this scorching indictment. The tendencies thus shown are consistent with the latest Republican attitude as manifested in the organization of committees in congress.

Republican policies have always placed first emphasis on preservation of property rights. Republican elements in legislative bodies are largely drawn down from the employing and wealthy classes. Men of this type, even though perfectly honest, realize with difficulty the struggle of the working masses, and do not understand their needs or demands or what in justice they have a right to ask.

The primary purpose for which any government is established, is to protect and promote the well being, not merely of the capitalists and wealthy classes, but of all the people down to the humblest worker.

The Democratic party has come home closer to the common people and has sought more anxiously to promote the general welfare. Its foremost aim is social justice, to improve working conditions for the mass of the people. By giving its first attention to these great ends, it works for the security of all institutions. The voters in the country at large will not be attracted by tendencies toward reaction which the Republican leaders of the great state of New York have just manifested.

The Germans threaten that if the peace treaty does not suit them, they won't sign, and will continue their present state of chaos and anarchy. Well, anyway, while they are chaosing and anarchizing, they aren't making many guns.

The Germans are reported singing the Star Spangled Banner, but not with the same enthusiasm with which they toasted the men who drowned the women and babies on the Lusitania.

In these reconstruction days men and women leaders are needed who literally have "iron in their blood." Pepton combines iron-nutrients in true medicinal form. Gives strength of iron to the blood, nerves and digestion, freshens the complexion, reddens pale cheeks, gives the rosy-cheer of health, reduces danger from colds and exposure. Remember the name, Pepton.

WHAT WILL THE SOLDIER DO?

Some people who recollect civil war conditions clearly, are predicting that many of the soldiers will never be satisfied to take up permanently the kind of work they left.

They argue that these men are tired of the rigors of strict military discipline. They will desire to strike out in some way for themselves, to get into some form of activity where they can think and act on their own initiative. The life of great business concerns may seem too much like military discipline, tending to repress individual initiative.

After the civil war, the returning soldier showed this desire to get out of ruts and to create something for themselves. Many of them started little enterprises of their own. In those days a man could start a little manufacturing business in his home village with a few helpers and very likely make good. Today the little manufacturing business meets more severe competition.

A great many of the civil war veterans, who previously had never been farther from home than the county seat, went far off into the west, and built up a new country. But those were days of free lands. In these times, good land costs a lot of money. So the kind of opportunity that offered itself to the civil war soldier, to strike out and create something new, is not so easy to find today, or is beset with greater difficulties.

Many soldiers will go for farming, and it will give them the chance for independent action that they may crave. But they need not feel that the big industrial organizations necessarily repress initiative. Business of today is looking out keenly for individual force. The man who has it is quickly spotted and advanced. The soldier has had a training that should help him get recognition.

EFFICIENCY OF ADVERTISING.

In a non-advertising town, the easy going merchant would live a comfortable life unless he spoiled his peace of mind by cherishing ambitions. If he kept a clean looking store, on a good location, he would get his share of the trade. Business would go by luck and chance and personal friendship and habit.

The store that had the best location would get the most trade. People would buy at the store where they could save the most steps. They would not go around a corner to get better values, because they would not know those values were there.

Retail trade would come down to a dead level of uniformity. A man who did his best and gave good values would be pretty sure of a meager living. But there would be no chance for him to get ahead. He could not get any public support to back him up when he showed a spirit of enterprise.

This is truly a Democratic country, where the poorest boy may even rise to become a league baseball pitcher.

The people about now who feel the call of outdoors in working hours, are sometimes the same ones who feel in winter the call of the easy chair.

And thank goodness the college students have promised not to walk out, making only the condition that they have just one recitation a day, and that four-fifths of the faculty be swapped off for athletic coaches.

The patriots who felt so badly because they were too old to lay their lives on their country's altar, now have the opportunity to buy bonds and war savings stamps to bring the soldiers home.

It is complained that the boys are shooting birds with their air guns, and it is urged that they be required to restrict themselves to target practice on their neighbors' shed windows.

The people who are too indolent to send a quarter to the newspaper with a classified ad are frequently the same ones who later spend weeks trying to dispose of their property.

In accordance with the strike fever, it is not expected that church congregations will walk out on the spot when the minister says something they don't like.

However, cheer up, for the school children have agreed not to strike provided school only keeps two hours a day with every other week a vacation.

School strikes are the thing now, and teachers are allowed to keep their jobs if they conform to the rules of the pupils' union.

The people who pass around false gossip every day are indignant when a newspaper prints a man's initials wrong.

The un-Americanized aliens should hurry up and learn English, or they will never be able to read the ball scores.

After May 27 it is predicted the men won't have to go out to so many committee meetings.

MEXICAN BILE.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

Carranza says that Mexico does not accept the Monroe doctrine. He sends word to Paris to that effect. Nothing that in any way seems to interfere with the privilege of Mexicans to enjoy themselves after their own fashion will be acceptable to Mexico while Carranza rules.

The Carranza fulmination will have but little effect. The war in Europe is over, and Carranza will have to be reasonably well-behaved. No one cares about his opinion of the Monroe doctrine. The doctrine is applicable despite Carranza's fuming. It has, of course, been modified by the Wilson doctrine, which declares that Latin-American states shall not be exploited for the benefit of United Statesers. The Monroe doctrine lives. It will protect the Latin-American states from non-American aggression whether they like it or not. If Carranza wished to sell Mexico to Germany or Japan or San Marino he would be stopped.

Doubtless Carranza has no such design. He is merely a fussy old fingo, who loves to bluster. If Germany, Japan or San Marino were really desirous of gobbling Mexico, Carranza would without question welcome United States aid. If a German or Japanese or Sammarinese army were to invade Mexico, Carranza would howl for help.

For the moment no one gives much head to Carranza. He is a very loud talker, and a man of small ability, but by some miracle he seems to have mastered much of Mexico. Long may he thrive. If he can continue to conduct even a passable government the United States will smile benignantly on him, quite regardless of his persistent unfriendliness. He was very benign toward the Germans, but even that will be overlooked. All that the United States demands of Mexico is something remotely resembling a national government, and Carranza's regime seems almost to fill the bill.

POLICE DISCIPLINE.

(Columbus Dispatch)

The lot of a policeman is not a cheerful one, always, however much it may appear so when depicted on the stage, and he does not get credit for one-half the deeds of valor he performs and for the sacrifices which he makes. The average man, sleeping in security, little dreams of the hardships undergone by the patrolman on his beat as he faces wind and weather to protect the sleeper and his property. If the time ever comes when society worships men rather than money, doubtless the policeman will get his due.

But being a policeman is not computatory. No man is drafted for the place. When one seeks to enter the service in that capacity he should know what is expected of him and if after a few weeks of the life he finds the place is not to his liking, he should resign. If he is not willing to conform to all the petty rules and regulations of discipline, he should step down and out and not attempt to make his berth easier by violating the requirements of the department.

It cannot be pleasant for the authorities to have to remove or suspend an officer, but they, too, have their duties to perform. The public holds them responsible for the efficiency of the force, and they cannot shirk their duty any more than the policeman. So the public will, in good sense, stand with the heads of the department in matters pertaining to the disciplining of policemen, rather than with the unfortunate officers.

UTTER ANNIHILATION.

(Ohio State Journal)

Melville Stone, the manager of the Associated Press, in an address at a recent meeting of the news association in New York, spoke of the league of peace, which he favored, because it was terrible to think what the world would become if the situation permitted nations to drift to war again. He said the world situation had reached a point, through the advance of science, "where a future conflict would well-nigh mean human annihilation." So the first duty of modern times is to form an organization to prevent, if possible, a recurrence of war. It may be hard to do that, but the difficulty will chiefly arise from the disposition of men to find fault and say it cannot be done. The true course is to assume that it can be done, and go about it in a way to crown the effort with success. The idea of pleasing the perversity of humanity is absurd. We will never reach any good if we tremble before difficulties. Whether the President is right or wrong the duty of the day is to stand bravely for a league of peace.

SUICIDE AND ARMY.

(New York Sun)

From April 7, 1917, to February 21, 1919, there were 329 cases of suicide in the American army, 193 occurring in the United States and 136 overseas. This was a very small suicide rate for a body of nearly 4,000,000 men, quite below the average in civil life during the same period. The suicides among United States soldiers in the civil war, as officially recorded numbered 291. It is hard to establish an exact comparison between the deaths from suicide in the

And then to be awakened, dear, From deep and peaceful slumber, To stumble to the phone and hear "A voice say, 'The wrong number.'"

Did You Know?

That "carse" is a term applied in Scotland to low lands adjoining rivers? In Stirlingshire it is restricted in its sense to the level alluvial soils which are only a few feet above the river level. In Perthshire it also applies to the whole of the slightly undulating lands to the north of the Tay, which form the carse of Gowrie. Carse soils usually produce crops of great luxuriance.

Private, Company D, 124th M. G. S.

Private Slack received the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous intrepidity in action near Consenvoye, France, October 8, 1918. Observing German soldiers under cover fifty yards away on the left flank, Private Slack, upon his own initiative, rushed them with his rifle, and single-handed captured ten prisoners and two heavy machine guns, thus saving his company and neighboring organizations from heavy casualties. His home is with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Mae Slack, Lampson, Wis.

McWilliams-Rafferty.

At 5 o'clock this morning the nuptial mass solemnizing the marriage of Miss Bessie Rafferty and Mr. Lawrence McWilliams was celebrated at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament.

The wedding church was played by the organist, Miss Bernice Floyd, and the attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Rev. Father Charles Waterson celebrated the mass and solemnized the marriage.

The bride wore a traveling suit of midnight blue with a white and blue leghorn hat. The bridal bouquet was a corsage of white sweetpeas. Mrs. Jenkins was also gowned in blue, with a pink hat and a corsage of pink sweetpeas.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home in Curtis avenue. The appointments were in pink and white, sweetpeas of the two colors, filling French willow baskets.

Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams left for a wedding trip to St. Louis, and on their return will be at home in Piquette.

Mrs. McWilliams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rafferty of Curtis avenue, and is a graduate of the Blessed Sacrament high school. She also sang in the choir at the church.

Mr. McWilliams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McWilliams of Tenth street; was recently discharged from the army with the rank of lieutenant, and is in the employ of the Miami Conservancy commission, with headquarters at Pittsburgh.

Mrs. E. T. Johnson entertained at her home in Hudson avenue, Tuesday evening, for the pleasure of her son, Ernest, Jr., who celebrated his seventeenth birthday anniversary.

The guests were the officers of the class of '20 and a few friends. The table was centered with the birthday cake; the evening was informally devoted to games. The officers of the class are: Ernest Johnson, president; Frank Taylor, vice president; David Hirsch, treasurer; Guendolin Davies, secretary; and the other guests were:

Misses Mary Rosebrough and Sarah McConnell.

One of the most delightful dancing parties of the series was given by the Knights of Columbus, Tuesday evening at the Elks club. Fields orchestra furnished the dance program, and during the supper hour a Hawaiian orchestra with Hawaiian singers, gave an attractive program. A supper of several courses was served at 11 o'clock.

The dancers were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Deardorff, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. William Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. George Barry, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. GRANVILLE

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, April 30.—On Tuesday evening a farewell reception was tendered Dr. Millard Dreiford, retiring pastor of the First Baptist church, and Mrs. Dreiford, which filled the social rooms with friends and well wishers, not only of his own but of other churches. After an opportunity had been given for a goodbye to the honor guests, and for a brief social hour, the company resolved itself into an "after dinner symposium" with Dr. C. L. Williams in charge of the informal program which was presented. Music furnished by a sextette from the Women's Music club of which Mrs. Dreiford is a member. Dr. Williams, who is a member of the English past songs, given in costume by Mrs. Theodore Johnson, Mrs. J. W. Rohrer, Mrs. W. P. Ullman, Mrs. A. E. Stuckney and Mrs. J. D. Thompson, and a ballad by Mrs. Rohrer, soprano. Dr. Williams' remarks as a toastmaster were timely, witty and wise. Tributes of praise for the work Dr. Dreiford has accomplished in almost six years of his incumbency, were numerous and heartfelt. Rev. C. J. Field referred to his zeal in the mission work of the church; Mrs. Helen Hunt to his work through the leadership of C. W. Williams, and Dr. Dreiford's influence as a preacher and of his strength to stand alone. Dr. Stui of the First Baptist church in Newark paid eloquent tribute to his manliness and his devotion to ideals which are the highest and best. In conclusion, Dr. Dreiford expressed his gratitude, his regret at leaving, in response to what he considered the higher call of duty; his satisfaction in the fellowship of friendship which he has enjoyed here. A parting gift of sterling silver, a dozen knives, forks and spoons of hand-some design, came from the congregation.

Dr. Williams in voicing his appreciation of the work of Dr. Dreiford as pastor, paid the highest tribute to his predecessor in the pulpit, Dr. C. J. Baldwin. "Dr. Baldwin was not only a splendid pastor and a preacher of the word," said Dr. Williams, "he knows how to be an ex-pastor, the hardest thing in the world to do. When he resigned he quit, and Dr. Dreiford has had no fairer supporter, nor more sympathetic friend than he has found in his former pastor, Dr. Baldwin."

The government accountant of the committee on education and special training, was at Denison University Tuesday to audit the accounts of the students army training corps. He highly commended the accounting system that he found here.

President C. W. Chamberlain was a guest of the Rotary club in Newark last night and today he leaves for Cleveland to a council of federated churches. He is one of three representatives of the Baptist denomination to be present. The others are: Dr. Abner Small of the University of Chicago, and Dr. Stillwell of Cleveland.

George B. Smith, of the firm of Deeds, Kettering and Smith of Dayton, is in Granville today, the guest of President Chamberlain.

Mrs. R. S. Colwell has as house-guests two classmates, Mrs. Lorinda M. Bryant of New York City, and Mrs. A. L. Ralston of Grove City. Mrs. J. C. Campbell of Columbus, Mrs. James A. Huston of the Columbus road, and Miss Eva Robinson of the Newark road, members of the same class, expect to join the party for a class reunion. Mrs. Bryant, who belongs to a pioneer family of Granville, and who has written several works on art, is enroute to Nebraska to fill several lecture engagements.

The Three M's and L. will meet at the home of Mrs. Moore in South Mulberry street, Thursday afternoon.

Milady's Boudoir

Care of the Face.

Facial gymnastics which are the result of turbulent emotions must not be confounded with muscular contractions that make for beauty. The former encourages wrinkles and the frequent grimacing changes not only the contour, but the expression of the features. The muscles of the face must be used, and the underlying tissues as so that they will be kept firm and elastic. Inactivity tends to make them flabby, the venture gives way and this condition encourages wrinkles and wrinkles are woman's worst enemy.

When the cheek muscles sag the face begins to age. The following exercise will make the muscles firm and help to restore the contour and strengthen the muscles over the jaw.

Take as sitting position, then, without otherwise distorting the face, expand and contract the lips, using all the strength possible in the muscles of the cheeks, chin and around the mouth. Repeat twenty times. In doing this exercise the lips will be visible, and both rows of teeth are visible. This movement, develops all of the muscles of the lower part of the face. The slender bands of muscles that extend from the cheeks over the jawbone and down to the neck are contracted and relaxed at every strong exercise of the lips. For the depressions around the mouth, the melanchocholy droop at the corners and the tight straight line the lips make when they are closed, something must be done to restore the delicate muscles, which mean so much into the expression to the face.

Try this exercise, open the lips slightly as sitting position, to smile, contract them, employing all the muscles around them, the chin, the upper cheek muscles, making them all hard and firm. Relax and gain contract, counting twenty times. Do not use the muscles too extensively. Chewing, the food mastication, not only aids digestion in relieving the organs of work that nature intended should be done in the mouth, but makes an excellent exercise as well.

Our Boys and Girls

It is the mother that is the wise friend of her children who is the loving mother, who sees to it that their bodies are healthy and well fed, and that they are given proper training in good habits, who helps the young man's development, and sees the best type of schooling for each one of them; who doesn't insist that one shall go to college or one be a doctor or the other stay at home, but who finds out what each one is best fitted for and helps them to work for that end.

It is the mother who delights in seeing her children happy, not in seeing them indulged, and who can stand rage and chatter when young men are wild joy and must have expression, in a young and youthful way, but who finds the time and takes the pains to insist on good manners, who teaches her children to be self-reliant all day, and perhaps she may have sacrificed herself, but if she looks for reward and demands payment it was never love that prompted the sacrifice it was a special form of self-indulgence.

Every Day Etiquette

If a lady is asked to chaperone a young girl at the theater where does she sit?—asked Miss M.

In entering the theater the chaperone follows the usher and precedes the young girl. She then takes the inside seat and the two girls between her and the young man repeated her sister.

HELMET IS NICE SOUVENIR BUT---

This One Picked Up By Newark Nurse in France Had Part of Owner's Scalp In It.

Miss Florence Hershberger, who has been overseas for some time serving first with the British and now with the American army as nurse, has had some wonderful experiences and in a letter recently received by her sister, Mrs. Charles N. Moore, of West Church street, she enclosed some pictures.

One shows Miss Hershberger procuring a German helmet as a souvenir, but she found she did not care to keep it as a piece of human scalp was found in the helmet.

Other pictures show portions of the battle front, and of Helms cathedral. Miss Hershberger is stationed at Provincial Hospital No. 1 at Bazolles-sur-Meuse, and writes as follows:

"I have just received your letter of February 4, having been forwarded from Tintot. I sent you a card some time ago, so you know of my move. Your letters certainly must have gone astray for I have never received them. Even now and then I get a letter months old, which has been knocking about France from one post to another. In January I received a letter from an English captain who was killed three days before the armistice was signed. On January 10th our orders came through to proceed to Hospital Center at Bazolles-sur-Meuse, so the fifteen who had signed for further service started. Of course we went through Paris. No matter where one is ordered it is always understood via Paris. And let me tell you that traveling in fifteen is much worse than moving a regiment. One of the girls, who is my special friend, and I stood it for awhile, and then decided to go on our own. We lost ourselves for three days, and the others were obliged to wait until we showed up again. Most of the girls had just been over a few months, and took orders very seriously. So did we when the war was on, but now that the need for hurrying is over we thought a few days in Paris would do us no harm and proceeded to take them.

We ran across a major in my friend's home town in North Carolina. With him was a captain from Roanoke. Never have had a better time. Saw all the shows, grand opera and opera complete, had some honest-to-goodness meals at Cafe de Paris and Ciro's. We had quite a time the first night at Ciro's. We had finished a very good dinner and were trying to decide upon dessert. We called the waiter in consultation. He named over a number of things, we were too well fed to be enthusiastic, finally one of the girls, Edith and I both shouted louder than we intended, 'ice cream!' There were a number of officers dining alone around us, who began to tell us that it was ice cream party. Tables were put together, extra chairs drawn up and the couches on each side crowded. Even two Scotch officers asked if they could come, too. The ice cream was a treat. After a year and a half it was wonderful to be eating real ice cream again. It was a very merry party—the usual conversation, very briefly, our experiences in the war, and then 'The States'.

The lights in Paris are wonderful now. So different from the Paris of the last August. Since this was my sixth time here I knew the place pretty well. Ran across many old friends, but never a soul from home. After three days we looked up the others and found them so agitated that we decided it was unfair to worry them further. We consented to proceed to our objective. In the meantime they had reported to an A. P. M. (which a veteran never would have done), and as a result we were obliged to sign A.W.O.L. cards. It was amusing to think how many times we had gotten away with it, and now we were caught. We had no regrets, however—it was worth it.

"After a most uncomfortable night's journey we landed here—in this awful road hole. It is a little village on the Meuse, beautifully situated in a valley—that is, beautiful from the hills—but oh, when you walk down into it, I can now understand how the mud of Flanders looked to the poor Tommies. In spite of this, I am glad I came, for it is a most interesting and historical country. Domremy, the birthplace of Jeanne d'Arc is within a few miles of here. I have been there several times. The little stone house is still standing and the little church where she worshipped—upon the hill beyond where she pastured her sheep and had her visions—a very beautiful chapel has been built. It contains some very wonderful paintings by Lionel Royer, portraying her life.

"We have very much enjoyed our introduction to the A. E. F. It is fine to see among Americans again. We have some entertainment every night. A great many dances. All of the camps have large Red Cross recreation huts. All of our shows, concerts, dances and so on are held here. The boys have their own and so do the officers. Once in a while the nurses have one. We have some of the best music. Most of the time the army bands that are sent to the front. I do not believe that the American people intended this should be so, and I know that a great many benefits have been given which we have never received. The Red Cross, for instance, has been a wonderful organization for the boys, but they have treated the nurses most shamefully. However, we do not allow these things to spoil our work for the boys give us a great deal more credit than we deserve and I am proud to work for them. The Red Cross is a fine thing, but they are full of methods of nurses, and they all feel as I do.

"It is very certain, has been coming to my mind. The commanding general of this area is a good friend of mine. He is a regular army man and a Colonel and General. I have met many people in the hospital who I know, and likewise they know me. As a consequence he has been a great help to me. His son is a doctor and he has been a great help to me. We have had some of the best music. The middle of the war, I think, and myself up to the front. We went all over St. Mihiel and on to Rems. We saw enough of the front, the dugouts, the trenches, and saw accounts of the fighting there. We saw the front lines, and they all feel as I do. To see their guns, gas masks, and the things that they have seen, it is a great help to me. I am proud to work for them. The Red Cross is a fine thing, but they are full of methods of nurses, and they all feel as I do.

THE JOY OF MOTHERHOOD

Mrs. Phillips Sends an Encouraging Letter to Expectant Mothers

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"I too, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for five months before my baby was born and it has made me much better in health. I was always very ill when my other children were born, but with this one I had a much easier time. He is a healthy boy now, three years old, and I believe it was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that made me so well. It is certainly a good medicine for every woman. I cannot say too much in its favor, and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. W. PHILLIPS, 5430 Kingsessing Avenue, West Phila., Pa.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such letters is that this famous old root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness.

For special advice in regard to such ailments write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its many years experience is at your service.

Moving pictures are soon to explain the value and benefit of good roads to the theatre goers of the entire country. It is an announcement made by the Chamber of Commerce.

To give full benefit to her hundred million people no country of the earth is in as great need of roads and transportation facilities as the United States. The speed of development of her vast area is almost solely dependent upon it, for distance traveled in the transaction of business by men and commodities are greater than in most any other highly civilized country.

Despite the degree of efficiency to which our country has developed transportation equipment—particularly motor vehicles—the past ten years, she has been unreasonably slow in developing her highways. Of our 2,000,000 miles of roads, only 1 per cent (20,000 miles) are developed. The overwhelming balance of unimproved roads creates the most impassable a good portion of each year.

The film dealing with good roads is one reel in length and shows, vividly, in story form, the very vital relationship of roads—good roads—to every phase of the life and success of the country. It explains with interesting scenes from France and Italy just how good roads saved France from utter defeat twice and gave Italy her final success. It shows where and how we failed hopelessly in this country in moving war materials to the seaboard and coal to the newly, not because we lacked good roads. It is a complete brief history of education to every American that will make an intelligent voter of any local good roads appropriation, an educational film story that all will enjoy.

Under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce this production will be exhibited in a number of local theatres within a few weeks. Theatre managers are offering every aid to the Chamber of Commerce in getting the production before the public by arranging to place the films on their regular programs. With this public spirited co-operation all are destined to be much better informed in our need for good roads when this film has completed the theatre campaign here.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

The processes of digestion are controlled by the blood and nerves. That is why the best treatment, by which the blood is built up, has corrected so many cases of stubborn stomach trouble.

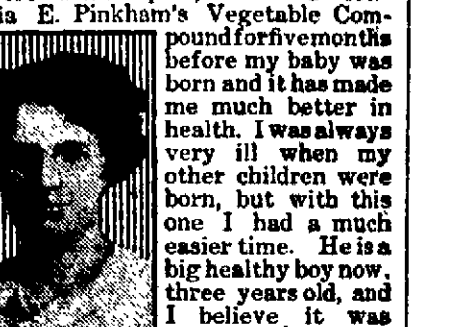

There can be no permanent relief in stomach trouble until the digestive organs are toned up to do the work that nature intended of them. The only way that this can be done is through the blood which plays such an important part in the work of digestion. In fact good digestion without good red blood is impossible.

"I am in health now than I have been in years, and I give the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," is the statement of Mrs. Caroline Poulin, of No. 20 Kendall street, Augusta, Me.

"Overwork caused me to become very nervous and weak. I lost my appetite, had sour stomach and often belched gas. The pain in my head was so intense that it hurt me to speak and a pain in the lower part of my back caused me much distress. My heart became affected and palpitated badly. I lost sleep because very thin and had dizzy spells when I would see black spots before my eyes."

"An article in a newspaper brought Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to my attention and a trial of one box gave me relief. I slept better and my stomach was in better condition. I took four boxes in all and my health is good now."

Your own druggist can supply you with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or you can order direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., 231 N. Second St., New York City. Send for one box or $2.50 for six boxes. Write today for a free copy of our diet book.

DRUGGIST EVANS WARMLY THANKED BY F. W. HANDEL

For His Advice to Take Nerv-Worth for 10-Year-Old Stomach Ills.

This enthusiastic statement, given to Newark's Nerv-Worth druggist, with signature attached, is one of those convincing bits of praise in which Nerv-Worth records abound.

"Mr. T. J. Evans—This is to certify that after taking one bottle of Nerv-Worth I feel better, sleep better, and can not get enough to eat, something that is entirely new to me. I have been suffering from stomach trouble for more than 10 years and was a nervous wreck. Tried a dozen different doctors and went away from my health. Spent more than I could earn and I will always have a good word for Nerv-Worth. I will recommend it to all I meet. Thanks to Mr. Evans for his advice to try it. It did much for my relief."

"THANK W. HANDEL."

CALENDARS

BROTHER MERCHANT:

Calendar Advertising can be made to pay—and pay BIG—if you go about it right.

There was a merchant who spent a lot of money each year for Annual Calendars. They didn't seem to pay. People looked at the Calendar to see the date—but never paid any attention to the advertising on it.

Finally he went to a Printer and told him he believed Calendar advertising could be made to pay, if he could get the right kind printed. He talked over his business with the Printer and told him how on certain days in the month he had special sales.

The printer got him up a large sheet about two feet square. It was printed on heavy card. It was really beautifully designed and printed. It was like any other calendar EXCEPT that on the Tuesday of each week there was NO date. At the bottom was simply the name, business and address of the merchant and in very small type the announcement that Tuesday was a special Bargain Day.

Whenever it happened to be a Tuesday and any one looked at that Calendar they at once recalled it was Bargain Day at this Merchant's store. He might have printed that fact on each space—but it would not have had the mental effect of that blank Tuesday staring a person in the face.

This merchant attributes a large part of his success to the fact that his printer devised for him such an unusual Calendar advertisement.

When you are thinking over something really novel in Calendar Advertising drop around and talk it over with us.

ROTARIANS HEAR DENISON'S PLANS

Pres. Chamberlin Explains the Building program of Granville Institution.

"You were born in Newark. So you're an all right fellow."

So sang Newark Rotarians at the Masonic temple, Tuesday night, in greeting Charles H. Brown of Columbus, the district governor of Ohio Rotary clubs. Mr. Brown told of his pleasure in returning to his former home-town and urged the members of the Newark club to get behind every project for the betterment of Newark, but to choose some one good work and concentrate upon it making it the Newark Rotary club's own service.

Dr. C. W. Chamberlain, president of Denison university, and an honorary Rotarian, gave the club an inside view of the extensive building program upon which the college is just entering. According to Mr. Chamberlain, Denison has retained a firm of famous architects and during the next 10 years will construct new buildings costing approximately three million dollars.

After dinner, Carl Norpell, John Alexander of Detroit, C. C. Grimm of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, Inspector Beatty of the postoffice department and Commissioners Fitch and Brown of the Boy Scouts of America.

The membership of the club endorsed "clean-up" week, and pledged its efforts to make the work a real success. Next Monday will be "clean-up" day.

CHARLES H. BROWN.

ZBYSZKO HAS NO DIFFICULTY HERE

Five Wrestlers Are Easily Disposed of By Giant Pole—"Strangler" Lewis Booked Here.

Wladek Zbyszko, champion heavy-weight wrestler of the world, gave a truly wonderful exhibition of his great strength and prowess at the Auditorium theatre last night when he threw five men and pinned the shoulders of each to the mat in 41 minutes, there being no intervals between the falls.

The first man to meet the champion was Paul Fowler, weighing 188 pounds and 245. The local champion put up a splendid exhibition and managed to stay 25 minutes when the big Polish grappler won the fall with a scissors and headlock, but it took him 25 minutes to do it.

Then came the unknown, a heavy-weight weighing 190 pounds. He showed a flash of form for a few minutes when Zbyszko clamped his favorite hold upon him, the scissors and arm lock, and pinned him fast in seven minutes. The hold is a favorite one with the big fellow, together with the crotch and arm lock. He used the latter on Vance Wallace, local wrestler weighing 145 pounds, to stay three minutes and it looked as if he would be mashed into jelly if the big fellow would happen to fall on him. The comparison between their sizes would be about that of a stepladder and a flea.

Next came Elmer Mooncatch and he did very well considering that he only weighed about 160. He managed to stay six minutes before the champ showed him by picking him off the mat and dropping him, then clamping him with the scissors.

The last of the five, Frank Miller of Wheeling, W. Va., 165 pounds, seemed to have a little confidence but it didn't last long, only 12 minutes when the big fellow gave a demonstration of his head scissors. He caught Miller's head between his legs and began to squeeze and the frantic signals of the West Virginian showed that he had enough.

In the preliminaries, Les Fishbaugh and George Pappas, a Greek wrestler and the two weighing 125 pounds each, gave a splendid exhibition neither securing a fall in the time limit, 30 minutes. Fishbaugh demonstrated that he is a man of ability.

Con Livingston of this city and Miss May Lewis of Charleston, W. Va., then gave an exhibition which went three falls. The visitor gave her weight as 125 pounds, while the local woman champion weighed 120. Miss Livingston won the first fall in three minutes with a head stand. The next fall was won by Miss Lewis in two and a half minutes with a body scissors and the third by Miss Livingston in four minutes with a arm lock.

Alva Lockwood officiated as the third man on the mat and gave very good satisfaction. It was announced that "Strangler" Ed Lewis had been matched with Don Slabator, Belgian heavy-weight, which will take place at the Auditorium theatre on May 7. Slabator weighs 225 pounds while Lewis weighs 235. This will give the fans a chance to see the great "Strangler" in action.

An athletic tournament and benefit for the local wrestlers who have been appearing at the Auditorium will be given on the evenings of May 15. The main match will be between Fishbaugh and a well known wrestler to be named later.

After the completion of the program last evening Zbyszko made a curtain speech stating that he had come to America seven years ago and he was devoting his efforts at the present time to place the wrestling game on a plane with other sports where it rightfully belonged. He said that he was a university man and a practicing attorney in his native country, Poland.

FORD CO. EXONERATED BY SENATE PROBE

Findings and hearings of the subcommittee of the naval air committee of the United States Senate on the resolution introduced by Senator Lodge calling for an investigation of the Ford Motor company and its "Eagle" boat contracts, eventually disposed of every charge made against the company and the navy department and, in addition, develop the fact that Mr. Ford neither sought the government contract nor profited by it.

At the time Senator Lodge brought forward his resolution he caused to be inserted in the Congressional Record and given to the press an article printed in a trade paper which made serious charges to the effect that the "Eagles" were a complete failure and that the navy department was charged with the fact that Mr. Ford neither sought the government contract nor profited by it.

The subcommittee summoned as witnesses, men suggested by Senator Lodge, experts from the navy department and others whose testimony promised to be of value in arriving at the facts. Admiral Taylor, chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Rear Admiral Griffin, chief of the Bureau of Steam Engineering, and Rear Admiral Earle, chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, representing the navy.

Dealing with the charge that the "Eagle" boat were so poorly constructed and designed as to be unseaworthy, Admiral Taylor testified that such statements were wholly untrue. "They came from Quebec to New London and came through two strong and well-known and they were excellent boats. There were probably a few leaks. There might have been leaks but not enough to worry about."

"So far as could be judged by the inspection of the ships and by the trials conducted, the vessel is strong and well built. While a few minor details have a rough finish the finish in general is very good."

The charge that the boats were unnecessary in the beginning and that in authorizing the construction of 60 of them following the sinking of the armistice the navy department favored the Ford Motor company, was characterized by Admiral Taylor as wholly incorrect. In this connection the Admiral pointed out, in answer to a question from Senator Lodge, that the "Eagle" boat is far more economical than the destroyer, both in first cost and in upkeep, and since it can do much of the work formerly done by the destroyers, both in peace and in war, it was felt that it was absolutely necessary to a well balanced navy.

The navy, it was explained, designed the boat along lines suited to special purposes and the craft were built in compliance with these plans.

The Ford Motor company did not seek the contract, Admiral Taylor testified. It had offered its full manufacturing facilities to the government when the United States entered the war, however, and the navy department, after casting about in vain for a shipyard where the "Eagles" could be built, finally asked Mr. Ford to undertake the work of construction. Mr. Ford replied that his company was not a ship-building concern but would do his best, and in addition to writing a contract far more favorable to the government than was usual, declared that he personally would accept no profits.

THE COURTS

Case is Settled.
There has been no record or journal entry of a settlement in the case of A. P. Harsough, administrator, against the city of Newark, a damage suit for $10,000 for the death of a young son of Hartsough which resulted when he came in contact with an electrically charged chain used to raise and lower the arc light in the Mt. Vernon road just off Smith street several years ago. City Solicitor H. C. Ashcraft, assisted by Jones & Jones, effected a settlement with the plaintiff's attorneys, Fitzgibbon, Montgomery & Black. PAY RENT TO YOURSELF!

DID you ever think of the difference in your friends? Stop a minute and compare them; you'll be surprised that you never saw the contrast before. Those who own their homes have a different look on their faces than the fellows who rent. The man who goes home to supper at six o'clock to a rented house—just like half a dozen others in the same row, hasn't as much spring to his step as one who hurries along, keen to see the progress in the new garage he is building or what development the day has brought in the garden.

IT'S a queer trait of human nature that the possession of a little real estate changes a man's general appearance, his disposition, and his efficiency. It makes him feel as though he had a place in the world with a RIGHT to it. It gives him responsibility—it spurs him on to do his best. It's just like having your own wife, or your own baby, or your own car—the other fellow's possessions may be very nice, but—you want your own!

BORROWING MONEY

YOU can borrow money on a home but you can not borrow one red cent on a rent receipt. If you want to build a home that is your own—come and see us. We have plans and actual photographs of real homes that can be yours. You don't need much money—a little down and we will show you how you can build your home now. Come to our office. The women of England's National Carpenter League are preparing a book to be sent to the government showing what they consider starvation conditions for the women of the league. It is leading the protestors of the league.

IT'S SIMPLY SURPRISING THE STYLES THE RICH MATERIALS THE FINE WORKMANSHIP

IN the many different models in handsome suits which are being brought out this season. There never was a season when one could select a blouse suit, a box suit, a semi box suit or a plain tailored model, which ever style was most becoming and still feel that she was dressed right up to the minute in style. All models are notably smart, whether they depend on their lines and the fineness of the material, on the brand or button trimming or on the striking colors, for their effects.

NO WOMAN SHOULD WAIT LONGER TO SELECT HER NEW SPRING SUIT

It's the first of May, and from now on, you'll constantly have use for the spring suit. Then again you can choose from the most handsome models which are always shown early.

THE VOGUE OF COMBINING TWO SILKS

is reflected in many of the most handsome models of the new dresses for spring and early summer wear. Beautiful printed voiles combined with plain colors—paulinas combined with Georgette crepes in plain colors—and the combination of plain taffetas or satins with sheer crepes form many novel styles. There are also handsome models showing beautiful designs braided or done in colored embroidery—narrow plaques—rafflings and fancy buttons.

THE SEPARATE SKIRT

has a prominent place in every woman's outfit, and it's not to be wondered at, when one sees the handsome styles brought out for spring and summer wear. Among the most beautiful are those of Baronet satin—tricolette—satin serge, shown in white and light colors suitable for wear all through the summer. Then the new plaids in wool and silk are shown in unusual color combinations.

TO THE WOMAN TO WHOM A NEW WAIST will make one want to own at least one or more of them. Some are high neck—others collarless, and in the fancy rib silks are many attractive stripes, in models to be worn low at the neck or closed and worn buttoned closed at the neck.

WOMEN OPPOSE FREE LOVE PLAN

Hungarian Communists Defeated In Effort to Abolish Marriage Laws Herebefore Recognized.

Budapest, April 21.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—It was due to a family quarrel that Hungary escaped having its women "communized" after the fashion in the Russian "republic" of Saratoff, rather than to the abhorrence of Bela Kun to the scheme as the latter afterwards felt.

The law to communize women was actually framed and in the printers' hands ready for publication when Herr Wehner, member of the cabinet, went home for supper. During the meal he told his wife and his mother-in-law in glowing terms about the projected reform.

"What are you doing for women?" they asked.

Wehner then explained that in future women would be free, too; that they would be permitted to choose their own husbands and divorce them if they liked by the simple process of paying a few cents for a legal paper, declaring their "unfitness" for married life. Further conversation developed the fact that the new law also gave husbands the same right; that children might be turned over to the care of the state so that both husband and wife would get rid of the duties and responsibilities of rearing their offspring.

"Do you mean to tell me that you can get rid of me from one day to another and marry the next day, if you like?" demanded young Frau Wehner.

"That's how the law stands," replied the husband.

Then the storm broke. Both wife and mother-in-law began to scream and a frenzied scene ensued. The upshot of which was that upon their demand Wehner promised to counter with the other government leaders and as a result of this the law died.

BAPTIST CAMPAIGN IS GETTING GOOD RESULTS

Baptists of Ohio have every reason to feel encouraged over the progress of their campaign in Ohio, according to Millard Dreyfuss, state director for Ohio in the campaign of Northern Baptist Laymen to raise $6,000,000 for church extension work. With only one-fourth of the churches of the state heard from, and nearly a week in which to complete the campaign, $109,735 have been reported on Ohio's quota of $425,000. It is expected that the reports from services held Sunday will put the state over the top.

An anonymous gift of $28,000 from a family in the Cincinnati district has been received at state headquarters in Columbus, in addition to $4,000 previously subscribed by the same donor. Bellefontaine church, with 250 members, which last year gave $400, this year has pledged $700; Granville church with 500 members has subscribed $875; Wilmington First church with 205 members reports $125, $400 of which were Liberty bonds after having paid $1,600 on their new church property only two weeks ago. Hillsboro church with 200 members which last year gave $700 is giving $2,000 this year; Fairfield 34 members pledged $19 last year and $125 on the present campaign.

The Cincinnati district has $44,000 to date, the Cleveland district $26,000 and Dayton district $22,000.

Reports from other states in the Northern Baptist convention indicate that victory is already assured. Montana has gone over the top between sixty and eighty per cent and subscriptions continue to come in.

METHODISTS PLEDGE MORE THAN 2 MILLIONS

Columbus, Apr. 30.—Methodist Episcopal churches in Ohio and southern Indiana are responding in an enthusiastic way to the call of the church's centenary for life funds for Christian world reconstruction. Although the intensive drive of the Methodist centenary campaign does not begin until May 15, and financial activities have been altogether at a standstill this week on account of the Victory Loan campaign, reports received at the Cincinnati area office up to Saturday show that two and a half million of the fifteen million dollar quota of this area has been pledged. By the first 100 churches to report, fifty-three of these are in Ohio, fifty in Southern Indiana and one in Kentucky.

The church holding the banner record thus far is Trinity at Youngstown. It has already subscribed $170,000 on a quota of $140,000. Rev. W. E. Hamaker is the pastor of this church, which will increase its already large membership to 10,000. Mansfield, W. R. Polhamus, pastor, and Lewis C. J. Yeager, pastor, Building with A. H. Weaver, pastor, are the other two hundred per cent churches in this area.

Portsmouth is the banner city thus far, all four of its churches have gone over the top with large margins over their quotas. The two churches at Massillon have both completed their work with good margins.

More than 100 churches are over the top in Southern Indiana, with a million dollars subscribed according to report of L. G. Gifford, financial director.

Conference totals of churches over their quotas are as follows:

Conference	Quota	Subscribed
N. E. Ohio	$261,957	$477,769
Ohio	258,879	429,546
West. Ohio	360,614	511,242
Ind. Ohio	1,000,000	1,000,000
Kentucky	4,650	4,689

MARTIAL LAW IS IN FORCE NOW

Whole of Bavaria Is Under Military Control—Stiff Fighting Near Munich.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Berlin, Germany, Saturday, April 26.—Martial law was declared today in all Bavarian territory east of the Rhine and the government troops began an advance on Munich from the south and captured Murnau. The communists immediately threw reinforcements into Kempton, west of Murnau, from Munich and Augsburg to ward off the attack of the government forces.

The Spartacan leader in Nuremberg, Albert Schmidt, was shot today after the discovery by the military authorities of a plot to depose the Hoffman government. Fighting then developed between the government and communist troops, resulting in the death of a number of the Reds. The other Spartacan leaders in Nuremberg were arrested and quiet again reigns temporarily.

Officers of the Third army corps announce that they have established that independent leaders had organized an armed force to overthrow the Hoffman government and replace it by a communist dictatorship.

The communists yesterday sent emissaries to Ratisbon and Landshut in an attempt to raise two million marks. The agents were released together with Herr Lustum, the communist commissioner of transportation. The commissioner confirmed reports that the financial situation in Munich was desperate and that the communists were unable to pay these out of work as they had agreed.
